

A NOTE TO OUR PEDALERS:

Our extensive trails and paths offer a wide variety of options to pedalers of all levels and interests. In addition, The Innstead Mountain Getaway is situated perfectly to allow for access to some of New Hampshire's (and Vermont's!) finest options for road rides, gravel rides, flowy and/or burly singletrack, hard-packed snow rides, and what we like to call "adventure riding" - i.e. setting your sights on a meaty objective (Blueberry or Moosilauke summit, for example) and conquering whatever lies in front of you.

A few on-site tips:

The Lower Meadow, Turkey Tree, and Warrior Cabin routes outlined above make for great, intermediate mountain bike loops. The O'Brien Trail descent from Warrior Cabin adds an extra bite: not quite expert-only, but more than a few pucker-up-on-singletrack moments.

Our summit climb via John Wolter is grueling, and you may or may not push the bike up a stretch or two, but the views up top are incredible and the descent options are exhilarating if you're up for it. Ore Dash is an expert-only singletrack downhill mtb trail and should be approached as such. John Wolter and Joan Wolter offer thrilling descent options as well, with a greater degree of forgiveness.

Whether on-site or off, 5 miles or 100, leisurely or grueling, we can point you toward the experience you're looking for. It's all right here.
